

"Since becoming a trainer with the Stop The Hate Train The Trainer Program, I have found that the knowledge and expertise I've gained have not only benefited me in my role on campus, but also have benefited other regional campuses throughout the Northwest. The materials in the Stop The Hate resource manual and the quality of the training experience were immediately effective in giving me the confidence to design and implement workshops following my training in March of 2001. This program has been one of the most important pieces of training for me in my thirty years in higher education."

Over a period of three days and approximately 18-20 hours of training time, each participant becomes skilled on 12 different training modules to implement in combination or as separate workshops/seminars, as follows:

- Module 1: Framework for Learning
- Module 2: Introducing Bias & Hate Crime Issues
- Module 3: Understanding Hate Crime Law
- Module 4: Reporting and Documenting Hate Incidents & Hate Crimes
- Module 5: The Impact of Hate Crime & Victim Support

- Module 6: The Attraction of Hate
- Module 7: Young Hate Crime Offenders and Offender Motivations
- Module 8: Preventing Hate Incidents and Hate Crimes
- Module 9: Trainer Workshop Basics
- Module 10: Evaluation of Workshop

- Module 12: Action Plan to Combat Hate

Key expert leaders from the partnering human rights and hate crime agencies conduct the training in groups of 25-50 depending on contract details. These experts are selected to maximize the participants' ability to impact his/her college campus as an educator on hate crime prevention. Throughout the next year, the participants commit to be a part of the Stop The Hate consortium of educators to combat hate on campus and implement an action plan consisting of a minimum of six hate crime prevention efforts that might include workshops, seminars, rallies, writing articles, developing campus response teams, etc.
